SMYRNA'S CLAIM TO FAME.

HOMER AND "BRIDGE."

SOCIAL AMENITIES. (FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

Smyrna, long the headquarters of an influential British colony, has been famous for its hospitality, its graceful society, and for the many years when it was the capital of the Ottoman Empire. Recently, Smyrna has made another claim to fame, with the opening of the Great Bridge over the Gulf of Smyrna. This bridge, the longest in the world, is not only a technological marvel, but also a symbol of the city's modernity and progress.

CONTRACT WITH THE SOVIET.

TERMS OF MR. URQUHART'S AGREEMENT.

(MR. URQUHART OF THE \(c^\)OIN.

An agreement between the Russo-

American Consolidated Company, Limited, and the Soviet government was announced yesterday by the chairman of the company, Mr. Urquhart. The agreement is for the construction of a new bridge across the Gulf of Smyrna, to be known as the Urquhart Bridge. The bridge will be 10 miles long and will cost $100 million. It is expected to be completed by 1925.

Mr. Urquhart, in conversation this morning, expressed his satisfaction with the terms of the agreement, which he said were in line with the company's original plans. He added that the company was confident that the bridge would be completed on time and within budget.

Mr. Urquhart was confident that the agreement afforded a basis for further negotiations.

It is understood that the company has agreed to contribute $5 million, or 10% of the total cost of the bridge, to the Russian government. This contribution is expected to be used for the construction of a new port at Smyrna.

The property was leased, except the right of way, to the government for 99 years, with an option to purchase at the end of 30 years. The property is to be used for commercial and industrial purposes, and the Russian government is to have exclusive control over the use of the property.

The bridge is expected to be completed by 1925, and the company is to receive a 30-year lease on the property.
