DESTRUCTION OF SMYRNA.

120,000 VICTIMS.

FIRE, MASSACRE, AND PILLAGING.

REFUGEES' PLIGHT.

The fire that is raging in Smyrna has practically destroyed the town, which had already been given over to pillage and massacre by the Bolsheviks. Special電代: Athens, together with a wire from Smyrna, quotes the estimate of a member of the American Relief Committee that the numbers of various kinds totalled 120,000 up to yesterday morning. The refugees still remaining in the town are huddled on the outskirts, where the victims are at least 120,000 up to yesterday morning.

The above is a bald statement of the facts. The burnt houses, which had been entirely destroyed, are all that is left. The terrible mass murders, primarily directed against the Greeks, have been carried out with a thoroughness and a brutality that are almost unprecedented. The Greek Orthodox bishop, who is a member of the American Relief Committee, in addition to that, has the signed testimony of victims numbering at least 120,000 up to yesterday morning.

The above is a summary of the situation as it is now. The Protocoll of Smyrna, a fire that has already been raging for several days, has been completely destroyed, and the town is completely in flames. The situation is very critical, and the prospects of rescue are not very promising. The Greek Orthodox bishop, who is a member of the American Relief Committee, in addition to that, has the signed testimony of victims numbering at least 120,000 up to yesterday morning.

A TERRIBLE Plight.

A "FAIT ACCOMPLI"

The situation in Persia has been unnecessarily tense for some time, and the recent incident of violence between the Turks and the Kurds has heightened the tension. The Turks, under pressure from the Allies, have been forced to act swiftly to prevent a full-scale war. The Kurds, on the other hand, have been pushing for greater autonomy, which has led to clashes with the Turks.

The incident occurred when a band of Kurds, led by Sheikh Ahmad, attacked a Turkish border post near the town of Sazandagh. The Turks, responding to the attack, launched a counterattack, which resulted in heavy losses on both sides. The Kurds, however, managed to retreat safely, and the situation remains tense in the region.

The Kurds have been demanding autonomy for some time, and the Turks have been resisting these demands. The recent incident has only served to increase the tension, and further violence is likely.

The international community is watching the situation closely, and there is a fear that it could escalate into a full-scale war. The Turkish government has been under pressure to act swiftly, and it has responded with a strong military response.

The Anatolian Crisis

Protection for Christians.

Action by American Churches.

To the Editor of the Times.

Sir—I have just returned from Paris, where I was present at the recent meeting of American churchmen, who, I am glad to say, have come to the conclusion that the crisis in the Middle East is a crisis in the interests of Christendom. The conference held at the hotel in The Times of the 13th. On my return I found awaiting me a letter from the American Consul, containing the following official statement from the Federal Council of the Christian Churches of America:

Religious leaders of the United States have been given the assurance that their nationals in Turkey can be trusted to protect the Pepper for Christians.

Ways of Protection.

The report of the Committee on the Protection of Christians in Turkey states that the Turkish government is willing to grant protection to all Christians who request it and that the protection will be effective immediately.

The report also states that the Turkish government has promised to give all necessary assistance to the Christian community in Turkey.

The report further states that the Turkish government will grant protection to all Christians who wish to return to their homes in Turkey.

The report concludes by saying that the Turkish government is willing to grant protection to all Christians who wish to return to their homes in Turkey.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES,

Sir,—If it be true, as many correspondents of your paper have recently charged, that the Turks are the greatest offenders of the political police in Turkey, then let it be put on the record that the Turks are responsible for the political police in Turkey.

The Turks are at war with the Allies and are responsible for the political police in Turkey.

Yours faithfully,
JAMES CANNON, Jr., Chair.

Franklin Institute, Philadelphia.

Yours truly,

W. F. FOSTER, Editor.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES,

Sir,—The Turkish government has declared that the re-establishment of the political police in Turkey will be in the interest of the Allies and in the interest of the Allies.

PRODUCTION OF "PEER GYNT" (SEE CONSIDERED)

The second part of the season's productions at the Leeds Workers' Theatre is being given with much interest and with a considerable amount of success.

The production of Peer Gynt, with its excellent direction and with the admirable acting of the principal parts, has been received with much applause by the public.

The production of Peer Gynt is, indeed, very good, and is a welcome addition to the productions of the Workers' Theatre.

Yours truly,

W. C. B. BENTON, B.A., President of the Leeds Workers' Theatre.
